

I feel that the requirements to obtain an Amateur Radio Licenses should be left as is. The dumbing down for the license requirements for this service is the absolute wrong direction that we need to be headed in.